Grandma Daugherty was the most loving and nurturing woman I know... my childhood is filled with songs and stories she told while sitting on her lap. Her love never wavered, patience never run dry, her family was everything and I was always greeted with a joyful face when I walked in the door no matter how long it had been. She's my idol for love and family, A true depiction of love and dedication. I have never felt so loved as when I am with her. Grandma I will never forget how much you loved me and I will spend the rest of my days loving and remembering you. You did your job right up to the end, you never gave up. I will love you with all my heart, always.
