It's been many years since we've seen each other in person, but could always count on solid advice when I needed it, or just a good laugh, you always had a sense of humor. You will be missed, your smile will always be with us. Rest Easy Kammy

I'll always remember trivia Friday. Rather it was with a group of people or just us we always had a blast. Our inside jokes will forever be our special connection. It's hard to believe you are gone. You were a great friend and I'll cherish the moments we had forever ❤️

You were more than a friend, you were a sister. You were beautiful inside and out; one of a kind. I have so many wonderful memories, too many to list. One thing I can say though is whenever we were together my stomach muscles were hurt so bad the next morning from laughing so hard and so much. Thank you for all the wonderful times and laughs. My heart goes out to all of you and may God hold you and help you through this very difficult time. Love you all 🍷

I miss you so much sis, i remember are game nights you always beat me in most of the games we played, especially card games like peanuts you were always quick with your hands, and while playing games we would make margarita's, and when we do puzzles together and you and your crafts i always was jealous could you were so good at making things. This is so hard you left us too soon. Love you
