My dad worked with Bob at Consumer's and I met him and Jo when I was little. Even though he only took me over there a couple times, they were very kind people, like the rare ones who appreciate you for who you are with no judgement. My childhood was filled with anxiety, but I specifically remember being at ease during those visits and I always wished we visited them more. He helped me woodwork a pinewood derby car for cub scouts and it was the first time I ever had a pumpkin roll with frosting. They grew bleeding hearts that I'd never seen before and I thought they were pretty and interesting. I've thought about them now and then over the years. I hope Bob and Jo's family are doing ok. --Matt C

I will forever remember the camping and fishing trips our family took with Uncle Bob and Aunt Jo and kids as I was growing up. I remember going and staying with them and them playing ping pong with me on their beautiful kitchen table. They made it seem like it was just more important for me to have fun. When I moved to Grand Rapids closer to where Uncle Bob lived he took me to lunch one day and told me it was Aunt Jo's favorite restaurant.. Uncle Bob and Aunt Jo were a perfect fit for each other and are back together forever, god bless all of you.
